9-Day War Savings Drive To Start in Ohio May 1

Pledges of Definite Future Bond and Stamp Purchases To Be Sought in House-To-House Canvass.

Ohio's war savings program will swing into full action May 1, when a nine-day drive to enlist every householder and wage-earner in the state in a definite War Bond or Savings Stamp purchasing program will be launched.

Goal of the Ohio campaign is pledges totaling $100,000,000 a month, or one-tenth of the national monthly goal of $1,000,000,000, Roy D. Moore, Ohio War Savings Staff chairman, announced today.

Workers To Visit Homes

An army of more than 67,000 volunteer workers will make a systematic house-to-house canvass in every city, town, and in all rural areas, to solicit voluntary pledges to buy definite amounts of War Bonds and Stamps in the future, Moore said.

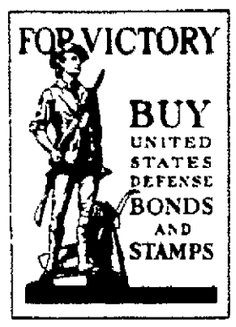
He explained that the signed pledges will not be considered as orders or commitments, but declarations of intention to buy. They are promises, revocable, should unforeseen circumstances affect the ability to buy.

Seek Pledges from All

Even though a person already is purchasing bonds or stamps regularly under a payroll allotment plan, or some other systematic savings plan, he or she should sign the pledge, according to Moore.

This is important since one of the main purposes of the pledge plan is to serve as a basis for Treasury Department calculations of future income for war financing.

Those signing pledges will receive striking blue and white "Minute-Man" emblems which may be placed in the windows of their homes or on the windshields of their autos.



WOMAN CRITICALLY ILL AS TWIN'S RITES ARE SET

Little Hope Held for Recovery of Victim's Sister.

Funeral arrangements for Miss Mary Irene Stanburrough of 345 Monroe street were completed today as her twin, Anna Margaret, lay critically ill at the home.

Miss Stanburrough died of influenza Monday night. Little hope is held for the recovery of her twin, it was reported today.

The service for Miss Stanburrough will be conducted Thursday at 2 p. m. in the Merle H. Hughes funeral home on Mt. Vernon avenue by Rev. H. C. Ahrens of Salem Evangelical and Reformed church. Burial will be made in Marion cemetery. Friends may call at the funeral home.

MARION RIFLES ARM FOR DRILL SESSION

Provide Own Weapons for Practice; 180 Participate.

Equipped with arms of their own provision, ranging from Derringer revolvers to Springfield rifles, 180 men and boys of Marion Rifles, the civilian military organization, drilled for an hour and fifteen minutes last night at the Central Junior High school grounds.

They marched in batallion parade from the armory to the school grounds and drilled by companies. When they returned to the armory they were given a party and entertainment by the commander, George D. Hildebrandt.

A feature of the party was a game period conducted by Fred Berg to promote the sale of war stamps. About $50 worth of stamps were sold by Roy Waddell, who was in charge of sales.

Gene Hill presided as master of ceremonies for the entertainment, which included two skits from the Marion Rifles All-Military Minstrel show now in rehearsal for production May 14-16 at Central Junior High school. The skits were a "mammy" act by Miss Myrtle Boger and a blackface act by Arthur Creasap, director of the show. Jess Dowler was the piano accompanist for the entertainment.

The men and boys joined in singing "God Bless America," led by Mr. Creasap. Shirley Ebert, daughter of Carl Ebert who is a major in the Rifles and in charge of the cadet corps, played a group of numbers and the Chuck Wagon Pals from Station WMRN played and sang western melodies.

To show the Rifles the improvement in their drills and exercises since they were organized several months ago, Walter Burrey showed motion pictures taken at all the drills.

After the entertainment the group consumed 200 hot dog sandwiches, 200 cheese and ham sandwiches, 100 bottles of milk, 200 bottles of pop, 200 ice cream bars and five gallons of coffee.

SALES TAX DECLINES

COLUMBUS, O., April 22—Sales tax receipts slumped $335,103 for the week ended April 11, compared with the corresponding 1941 week, State Treasurer Don E. Ebright announced today. The week's receipts dropped from $1,266,917 to $951,813. Automotive revenues continued to show the greatest loss, dropping from $319,308 to $82,994. Furniture and chain store sales also showed a drop.

REDS SET FOR NEXT BATTLE

Large Russian Areas Open Up for Fighting As Snow Line Moves North.

By HENRY CASSIDY
AP War Correspondent

KUIBYSHEV, Russia, April 22—Soviet Russia's snowline is rolling steadily northward, laying bare a large part of the Soviet-German arena, but the Red army stands ready for the next major clash of arms and the Nazis seem in no hurry to start it.

In a flight over the Caucasus and Volga regions back to Kuibyshev after a visit in Teheran, I have just had the rare opportunity of a bird's-eye-view of the terrain.

The land now is fit for large-scale operations in the south, though the long-promised German spring offensive has failed to come off. The initiative in local jabs, which characterized the winter campaign, remains in the hands of the Russians.

Here is how the fields look from the air:

The Caucasus—hard and dry under a warm sun.

The Volga region opposite the lower Ukraine—firm but a cool wind tempers the sun.

The Volga region opposite the upper Ukraine—stretches of mud and water, but drying rapidly.

The Volga opposite the central front—patches of snow and ice now melting.

It is only at Leningrad and along the northern front that winter still is holding sway and, strangely, it is there that much of the action now is taking place.

A review of dispatches indicates that the Red army's winter counterattacks disrupted to some extent the Germans' plans for a spring offensive, forcing them to bring up reserves and delaying efforts to get a major push underway.

There have been indications the Germans now are moving more troops and planes to the front in several sectors but the Red army itself has not been idle.

It is not possible to give details of Red army movements but it may be mentioned that masses

Marion Man Among 4 Entering Prison Today

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., April 22—Four men convicted in the Forest Glen cemetery lot fraud and conspiracy trial were taken to the Northeastern penitentiary at Lewisburg, Pa., today. They had filed appeals with the U. S. circuit court at Cincinnati, but elected to start their terms pending the court's decision, expected in October.

They were R. S. Trafton of Columbus, sentenced to five years and fined $1,000; W. C. DeWeese of Columbus, two years and $1,000; L. A. Cratty of Marion, one year and a day and $1,000, and H. C. Van Gilder of Columbus, one year and a day and $1,000.

Of 27 men convicted by a federal court jury, nine now have been taken to prisons. The remainder have appeals pending.

NEW HOSPITAL IS SUGGESTED BY ARCHITECTS

McLaughlin Says It's Worth Considering If Government Matches Local Funds.

A suggestion that an entirely new hospital be built instead of enlarging and remodeling the present one and an indication that the federal government may match the sum already established for the project were presented to members of the hospital board last night by Thomas D. McLaughlin & Associates, Lima architects chosen for the hospital project.

The meeting of the board with Mr. McLaughlin was called by Mayor Russell Snare to formally present the Lima firm the contract for the project and to discuss initial steps in getting proper authority for undertaking the work.

In connection with his suggestion, Mr. McLaughlin mentioned the possibility of building an entirely new hospital and using the old one as a nurse's home or training center. Referring to the possibility of a federal aid grant of about $200,000 for the project, Mr. McLaughlin said he thought it would be wise to construct an entirely new hospital with the $400,000 which would then be available.

Wants To Use Present One

A. W. Kette, one of the board members said he was not in favor of that idea and that he believes the old hospital should be included in the project.

Walter A. Dorsey inquired what the possibilities of getting an entirely new permanently constructed hospital are at the present time in view of the priority situation. Mr. McLaughlin said that with the exception of certain reinforcing materials for ceilings, such a project could be undertaken with the expectation of getting a thoroughly modern hospital.

Mr. Kette reasserted his belief that the old hospital should be included in the project and Mr. McLaughlin assured him his firm would obey the wishes of the board in the construction. "However," he said, "if a new hospital were to be constructed in the right way, I believe it would be a wise move." He said he believed a government survey would indicate such a move would be proper.

Mayor Snare said regardless of the way the project is planned, such a proposal could be considered because it would be possible to use both the old and the new hospital during the present emergency and then convert the present hospital to a nurse's home as was suggested by Mr. McLaughlin.

Offers To Change Sketches

In anticipation of the results of the Board's decisions and the results of the government surveys, Mr. McLaughlin said: "We'll make as many sketches and studies as will be necessary to satisfy both you and the government."

C. O. Brown, another member of the board, asked Mr. McLaughlin why the War Production Board order had set the limit of two stories on buildings for the duration. Mr. McLaughlin said it was because there were no eleva-

Former Marion Co. Man Feared Dead Sends First Word Home in 16 Years

Theodore R. Clark, Not Heard from Since 1926, To Spend Week-End Here with Sister.

A former Marion county man feared dead by relatives who have not heard from him in 16 years will return home over the week-end to get a birth certificate which will permit him to enter government service.

He is Theodore "Ted" Roosevelt Clark, 37, brother of Mrs. Pearl Clark Pine of 193½ East Center street, and son of the late Noah and Nellie Albert Clark of LaRue.

Sixteen years ago when he received his honorable discharge from the United States navy after six years on the destroyer Burns, he came to Marion and visited his sisters, Mrs. Pine and Mrs. W. C. Berry, who now lives in Cleveland. He was with them six weeks and then went to New York City.

Never in the succeeding years has any member of his family heard from him.

Sends Word From Texas

Last week-end local police called on Mrs. Pine to inform her they had an important message from her brother in Houston, Tex. They said he had called the station because he did not know his sister's address. He mentioned some kind of government service he wanted to enter and said he would be home this week-end to get his birth certificate.

He said he would fly to Fort Columbus from Houston.

The days until Friday, when she and a party of friends will meet him in Columbus, are passing like weeks for Mrs. Pine. She cannot imagine what her brother will look like, she is excited over what he has been doing in the long period and she said this morning she's just a little bit afraid there may have been some mistake and it wasn't her brother who called.

Open House Planned

She is going to keep "open house" at her apartment Saturday and Sunday for all the family and friends. She does not know how long her brother will stay.

Besides the two sisters, Mr. Clark has three half-brothers, David and Basil Clark of LaRue and Frank Clark of Kansas City, Mo.

The family was separated 28 years ago when the mother died and "Ted" went to Cleveland to live with relatives. When he was about 15 he came to Marion but was here only a matter of weeks until he went to California. In Los Angeles he fibbed about his age and enlisted in the navy.

He has a nephew, Charles LeRoy Pine III of Marion, who has enlisted in the navy and is now at the Great Lakes Naval Training station at Great Lakes, Ill.

SPEEDY BOATS HUNT JAP SHIPS IN PHILIPPINES

Lt. Bulkeley's Mosquito Craft Flotilla Makes Successful Dash Against Enemy.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, April 22—Warning to Japanese warships in Philippine waters.

Lieut. John D. Bulkeley's PT-41 is hiding somewhere in the thousands of miles of straits, islands and secret, jungle-screened anchorages of the Philippine archipelago, anxious to fight cruisers and destroyers, of whole fleets of them.

The navy announced last night that two of Bulkeley's flotilla of motor torpedo boats made a night attack on a Japanese light cruiser protected by four destroyers. In the face of strong fire from the overwhelming Japanese force the tiny American boats seriously damaged the light cruiser and left it sinking.

Attack Near Cebu

The attack was made during recent operations near the island of Cebu," said the navy communique, which offset somewhat the army's disclosure that nearly 3,000 national guardsmen from nine states were among the 37,000 or so American and Filipino defenders who were killed, wounded or taken prisoner on Bataan. Only 107 guardsmen were evacuated to Corregidor when Bataan fell.

There was a possibility that the cruiser which the navy reported torpedoed was the same one the army reported sunk on April 10 in a torpedo boat attack on a fleet of five warships and ten transports off Cebu. Naval officials were unable to say definitely whether the two announcements were duplications, and it was suggested that the actions might have been different, since the navy statement made no mention of transports.

Here's Fleets Score

If so, here is the score which Bulkeley's mosquito fleet has made against the Japanese navy:

One cruiser sunk and one cruiser probably sunk near Cebu and two 5,000-ton vessels and one unidentified Japanese warship torpedoed in Manila and Subic bays.

In the foray the swiftest off Cebu Bulkeley pitted the PT-41 and the PT-34 against the 30 5-inch and 6-inch guns, and the rounds of machine guns of the Japanese cruiser and destroyers. His two boats were forced to retire after damaging the cruiser. The PT-34 went ashore on Cebu, but the PT-41 escaped.

The navy also announced that the PT-35, which was at Cebu, was believed to have been destroyed to prevent capture by the Japanese. Whether Bulkeley has any boats remaining in addition to the PT-41 was not disclosed.

The army said National guard units fighting on Bataan on April 9 included the 192nd tank battalion, made up of from 700 to 800 men from Wisconsin, Illinois, Ohio and Kentucky.

The war department reported today that increasingly heavy Japanese attacks on the island of Panay had forced the American-Filipino troops to withdraw from Lambunao, a town in the interior where the enemy drive has been held up for a time by fierce resistance.

REPORT FOR QUARTER ISSUED BY SHOVEL CO.

$206,682 Profit Listed for First 3 Months of Year.

The Marion Steam Shovel Co. today reported a profit of $206,682.70 for the first three months of 1942 as compared with $177,783.98 for the corresponding period a year ago.

The profit figure remained after deductions of $22,041.25 for bond interest and $27,407.90 for depreciation charged to operations had been made and after provision had been made for estimated federal normal and excess profits taxes.

The company's net profit for the entire year of 1941 was $539,963.26.

Driver Penalized For Crossing Safety Line

Robert G. Merchant, 21, of 130 West Washington street pleaded guilty in municipal court yesterday afternoon to a charge of crossing a yellow line, placed only at dangerous curves. He was fined $10 and costs, both of which were suspended. Municipal Judge Hazen suspended his driving rights for 30 days. Merchant was arrested yesterday afternoon at routes 23 and four north of town by state highway patrolmen, who said he crossed the yellow line because of an inability to slacken his speed enough to make a proper turn at a curve.

SAVED BOMBER

Pilot Barrie Burnside (above) of Janesville, Wis., was credited in a dispatch from Sydney, Australia, with bringing to its home field a United States two-engined bomber which had been partly shot up by Japanese planes. Every member of the bomber crew except Burnside had been injured in an encounter with a Japanese fighter squadron after a mission over New Guinea. Burnside was enrolled at Michigan State college, East Lansing, Mich., when he enlisted.

JAP OUTRAGES HIT HONGKONG

Prisoners Face Starvation Three Months After Capture of British Colony.

Henry Bough, a member of the Reuters staff formerly in Hongkong escaped to free China from the one time British crown colony after three months in the Japanese-occupied city. He wrote the following dispatch for Reuters and The Associated Press.

By HENRY BOUGH

CHUNGKING, April 22—A Japanese-made hell that was Hongkong three months after its occupation.

Starvation faces a large proportion of the population. When the Japanese seized the island it was estimated there was a nine-month supply of food on hand. But large quantities were commandeered by the Japanese army and shipped away.

Food Is Poor

Food supplied the prisoners of war is poor and scarce, and there is much sickness. Civilian internees are somewhat better off, for they occasionally get fish and meat. The prisoners of war are given only rice and beans.

I can confirm the appalling stories of murder and rape which have been reported. Many of the worst atrocities were committed in the presence of Japanese officers. They are only too true. Many of the women are being attacked.

In the early days of the occupation the Japanese troops engaged in widespread looting. Men and women were stopped in the streets and watches and money were taken from them. Under the pretext of searching for arms, Japanese troops under the command of officers entered and ransacked private premises.

Everything possible is done to lower western prestige. Britons are ordered to sweep the streets while others must carry away dead bodies. British subjects are struck in the face on the slightest provocation.

Taken to Prison

All of these incidents took place before British and allied subjects were interned. One day notices appeared ordering all "enemy" nationals to report the following morning.

They were given a few hours to settle their private affairs and were allowed to take with them only their clothing and personal belongings. The internees first were concentrated in several third-rate Chinese boarding houses.

After about two weeks all were removed to a large prison at Stanley, about four miles across from Victoria on Hongkong island. No visitors were allowed there. The plight of elderly people perhaps was worst of all.

(Previous reports reaching Chungking have given a similar picture of Hongkong under Japanese rule, and a formal denunciation of the situation was made by the British government.)

INDUSTRIAL CLAIMS UP

COLUMBUS, O., April 22—Claims for compensation for industrial accidents increased 1,645 to 24,398 in March over February, Chairman Will T. Blake of the Ohio industrial commission reported today.

SMALL FORCE DRIVES NAZIS GUARDS BACK

Europe Hears Reports Italians Will Seek Separate Peace with Great Britain.

By The Associated Press

Britain's daring commandos stormed the Nazi - occupied French coast near Boulogne this morning, drove back the German guarding the coast and withdrew after two hours, British headquarters announced after the rumble of heavy cannonade was heard over the Dover strait before daylight.

A communique said the commandos, striking in the first combined operations raid since the spectacular attack on the German U-boat base at St. Nazaire, March 28, ranged the French coastal region testing Nazi defenses and collecting military information.

Such raids might be part of a program to find "soft spots" in the German coastal defenses as a prelude to a British invasion attempt.

The communique said British casualties were "very light" and that a naval force accompanying the commandos damaged a German trawler which attempted to intercept the raiding party.

A second Nazi trawler was reported set afire.

Heavy Firing Heard

The new cross-channel thrust—one of a series which is said to have spread jitters among German garrisons along the French "invasion coast"—was accompanied by heavy firing along the thick-mined Dover strait.

Lookouts on the Kent coast said the thunder of artillery came from the direction of Boulogne and that a second period of cannon fire was heard later, lasting about 15 minutes.

British headquarters said the raid was carried out by "a small reconnaissance" force and declared that "German troops were driven back before the advance of our troops."

No British ships were damaged, the communique said.

Boulogne is one of the most German defense strongholds along the coast nearest to England.

A possible new phase of an axis peace offensive, already launched by Japan with an unofficial "trial balloon," developed today as round-about reports asserted that secret negotiations were under way in Italy for a separate peace.

Quotes Rome Message

A dispatch from Ankara, Turkey, to the London News Chronicle quoted a "Rome diplomatic message" as authority for the report.

The dispatch said the recent exchange of British and Italian prisoners and other incidents had "encouraged the Italians to believe that Britain still does not hate the Italians in the manner in which the Nazis are loathed and despised."

"Italians feel that the coming of the summer months, when the Germans will be fully occupied

RATIONING OFFICE SET IN COURTHOUSE

Officials Expect Employment of Full-Time Assistant.

In anticipation of the appointment of a full-time assistant to the county rationing coordinator to handle the office work entailed by the rationing program in Marion county, the county commissioners have designated the small room adjoining the sheriff's office in the courthouse for use by the rationing board.

Work of partitioning the room from the sheriff's office and outfitting it with office equipment is under way. Although no definite word has been received by local officials, it is believed state rationing headquarters will authorize hiring of a full-time assistant soon.

John P. Probst, who had been acting as county rationing coordinator, recently resigned. It is understood, however, that state officials have regarded the work done by him as excellent and have requested him to remain on the job. No action has as yet been taken on his resignation.

SEEK WAY TO RELIEVE NURSING SHORTAGE

Relief from Other Hospital Duties Recommended.

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., April 22—Nurses must be relieved of housekeeping and kitchen duties and devote their time exclusively to the sick to meet a war-caused nurse shortage, Ohio hospital officials were told today.

Miss Celia Cranz of Akron, chairman of the state nurses' board, urged "nursing for nurses" by delegating secondary tasks to orderlies and nurse-aids, some supplied on a volunteer basis by the office of civilian defense and the Red Cross, jointly.

"The nurse must be relieved of the housekeeping and kitchen staff and put back on the hospital staff," Miss Cranz asserted in an address prepared for the Ohio Hospital association meeting. She proposed a careful analysis of nurses' duties to determine which can be turned over to assistants.

Because war industries are taking so many of the group who formerly served as nurse aids, Miss Cranz suggested that older persons would fit into the hospital program for such tasks.

She said a recent survey showed 462 nurse vacancies in 69 Ohio hospitals. Some of this can be remedied by increasing the number of student nurses, Miss Cranz declared.

Another source already tapped, she reported, is married nurses who neither are registered or working at their profession.

The discharge rate of patients from nine state hospitals has reached an average of more than 50 per cent—the highest in history, Welfare Director Charles L. Sherwood said in an address yesterday.

175 in Ohio Tank Unit Believed Bataan Prisoners

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., April 22—There were 175 Ohioans among the former national guardsmen taken prisoner by the Japanese on Bataan, Roland Lee, assistant adjutant general, said today.

The war department reported in Washington that of the 3,000 guardsmen who took part in the heroic defense only 107 were evacuated to Corregidor.

The Ohioans, mostly from the Port Clinton area, were members of the 192nd tank battalion which trained at Fort Knox, Ky., and landed in the Philippines in November, 1940.

The war department announced last week that Brig. Gen. James R. Weaver, formerly of Fremont, was believed captured in the Bataan conquest. He went to the Philippines as a tank expert, having been in charge of that warfare division at Fort Benning, Ga. General Weaver once served at the army's general reserve depot in Columbus.

Rules Freezing Order Affects Gas Cook Stoves

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, April 22 — W. Walter Timmis, chief of the WPB plumbing and heating branch, ruled officially yesterday, that gas cooking stoves were subject to the government freezing retail sale of plumbing and heating equipment.

A member of the WPB legal staff held Saturday, in an unofficial interpretation, that such stoves were not covered by the freeze.

However, Timmis pointed out that gas ranges came within the definition of plumbing equipment "of a type used in, or connected to, a water, sewer or gas system."

Plumbing and heating equipment costing more than $5 may not be sold at retail without military priority ratings, under terms of the freeze order.

Is your child a NOSE PICKER?
It may be more than just a nasty habit! It may be a sign of worms. Yes, ugly, crawling roundworms inside your child! Other warning signs are fidgeting, "picky" appetite, crankiness, itching in certain parts.
Roundworms can cause real trouble! If you even suspect your child has them, get Jayne's Vermifuge right away! Jayne's is America's best known proprietary worm medicine. Scientifically tested and used by millions for over a century. It expels stubborn worms, yet acts very gently. If no worms are there, Jayne's acts merely as a mild laxative. Be sure you get Jayne's Vermifuge.

EUROPE'S FOOD STOCKS SHRINK

Increasing Difficulties Face Germany and Axis-Dominated Countries.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, April 22—The agriculture department, in a summary of recent cables on European food developments, told today of increasing difficulties confronting Germany and Nazi-occupied countries in producing and supplying their people with food and fiber crops.

Unoccupied France was said to be facing six breadless weeks before the new wheat harvest because of diversion of grain by the black markets, illegal use of wheat for feeding livestock and poultry, counterfeit ration cards, and failure of farmers to deliver the quantities expected.

The department said reports coming out of Germany indicated that strongest measures were being taken against violators of food rationing regulations.

Recent restrictions upon the milling of wheat and rye indicate, the department said, that German grain stocks have declined to a level where economies must be effected in order to insure against a poor crop at home this year and the possibility of supplies from southeastern Europe falling below expectations.

Agriculture production in Denmark, which in 1941 was less than half of normal, was said to be seriously threatened by the late spring, shortages of fertilizers, seed and labor.

The department said Germany hoped to secure the production of sufficient food in occupied Ukrainian Russia to meet the needs of Nazi occupation forces and for the bare maintenance of the local population.

"Reports indicate," the department said, "that spring sowing in the Ukraine is no easy task owing to the shortage of machinery and horses taken or destroyed by the Russians."

The department said the labor shortage was especially severe in the southern districts of the Ukraine, but that Germany planned to procure workers from cities. Reports from Russia told how the Soviet army had slaughtered great numbers of Ukraine sheep for food to prevent them from falling into German hands.

2 Calls Answered by Marion Firemen

A machine belt which ran too near the roof, creating friction against the eaves, was listed as the cause of a fire which did about $5 damage to the roof of the foundry of the Huber Mfg. Co. at 202 North Greenwood street. Firemen from Central and North Side stations, who answered the alarm at 4:05 p. m. yesterday, reported the blaze was already under the control of a 10-man company fire unit when they arrived.

An estimated $15 damage resulted when an electric washing machine motor short circuited and ignited yesterday afternoon at the Delmar Sullivan home at 381 Waterloo street. Firemen in the chief's car answered the call.

Bittinger Calls Defense Transfer Makeshift

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., April 22—J. Freer Bittinger, state Democratic chairman, today termed the transfer of $2,000,000 from the poor relief fund to civilian defense "a makeshift arrangement," but added the move will ease the minds of people in the state's defense areas.

The state board of control made the transfer at the request of Gov. Bricker.

Bittinger asserted that the allocation would not go far in solving the problem but would aid in getting the defense program started.

OHIO WHEAT SOURCE OF SYNTHETIC RUBBER

State Could Divert 10 Million Bushels a Year.

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., April 22—Ohio could divert 10,000,000 bushels of wheat annually to the production of ethyl alcohol for the manufacture of synthetic rubber, a farm official estimated today.

Rep. Anton J. Johnson (R-Ill.) suggested in congress yesterday the establishment of a "large number" of small distilling plants in the grain belt where farms can provide an "almost inexhaustible supply of agricultural products from which ethyl alcohol can be made."

Elmer Kruse, state agricultural adjustment administration chairman, said that in addition to turning a third of their annual wheat production to industrial use, Ohio's farmers could increase their potato output for this purpose.

The state's farmers feed most of the corn they produce and 26.7 per cent of the wheat, he asserted.

Prof. J. I. Falconer, chairman of the department of rural economics at Ohio State university, said the plan probably would be suited better to the larger wheat producing states.

Johnson told the house that Germany had 36,000 small ethyl alcohol plants at the beginning of the war. He estimated that the United States could make synthetic rubber from corn which would cost approximately 22½ cents per pound or only 4½ cents more than the present fixed price of natural rubber, or about 52 cents for the average tire."

Johnson charged that "petroleum and cane sugar interests apparently have united to repress and block the use of farm products, such as corn, wheat, potatoes, as sources of raw materials" for making synthetic rubber.

"It appears that these interests are being favored in the development of the synthetic rubber program," he added.

Here's What Dependency Bill Means To Kin of Men in Armed Service

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, April 22—Sponsored by the war department, a bill providing subsistence allowances for dependents of men in the armed services is pending before congress. The following questions and answers explain its provisions:

Q. Whose dependents would be covered?

A. Those of enlisted men of the army, navy, marine corps and coast guard, up to and including the grade of sergeant in the army, and corresponding grades in the other services.

(Committee attaches explained that the measure was designed to cover "all men" up to and including sergeants in the army whether they were selected or volunteers, as well as the men with corresponding grades in the other branches.)

Q. When would the measure become effective, if enacted?

A. On the first day of the fourth calendar month following enactment. Its provisions would extend for six months after the end of the war.

Q. How much would dependents get?

A. That depends upon the degree of relationship. Two classes would be set up: Class A, wife and children; class B, parents, grandparents, grandchildren, brothers and sisters. When an enlisted man wished to provide an allowance in either classification, $20 a month would be deducted from his pay; if he desired to have allowances paid to both class A and class B dependents, an additional $5 a month deduction would be made.

Q. Is that all the dependents would get what the enlisted man has taken from his pay?

A. No, the government would make additional payments for a wife but no child $20 a month; wife and one child, $30, with $10 per month additional for each additional child; for one child but no wife, $15; no wife, but two children, $25, with $10 per month additional for each additional child; for a former wife divorced, to whom alimony has been decreed, $20; for one parent (or grandparent) $15, two parents $25 and $5 for each additional parents, grandchild, brother or sister.

Q. Then a wife and two children would receive $60 a month in all?

A. That's right.

Q. Is any limit set on the amount which can be paid out?

A. The total allowance to be paid to class B beneficiaries might not exceed $50 a month and such beneficiaries must be dependent upon the enlisted man for their chief support.

Q. Is the plan voluntary?

A. Yes. The allotments would be granted upon the written application of the enlisted man.

Q. Is provision made for any other payments, in hardship cases?

A. Yes, the bill contains another section which provides that the federal security administrator may grant additional funds when he finds that the allowances are insufficient to provide the dependents with a reasonable subsistence. The amount of such payments would be determined by the administrator.

Q. What is the status of the bill?

A. It has just been introduced in both houses of congress. Committee hearings have not been started.

Don Ebright Addresses Kiwanians at Hotel.

Special to The Star

GALION, April 22—State Treasurer Don Ebright spoke to members of the Kiwanis club Tuesday noon at Hotel Talbott on the subject of the state government's participation in the civilian defense program. He said that the state government is attempting full cooperation within its existing agencies.

Warning against the prospect of inflation, Ebright said that the rising prices could easily increase the cost of the war 50 per cent. He urged citizens to participate in the purchase of defense stamps and bonds in order to give as much aid as possible to help pay for the war with present earnings. "Only in this manner," he said, "can the government win the financial peace following the war."

Kenneth M. Petri, chairman of the meeting, announced that John M. McSweeney of Wooster will be the speaker for the club next Tuesday.

During the business meeting C. L. Baxter explained the Galion defense stamp and bond pledge campaign to be conducted May 7. President E. R. Pickering appointed C. L. Morkel, H. L. Rickel and H. L. Plack as a committee to organize Kiwanis participation in the campaign.

NEW RESERVOIR AT GALION PROPOSED

Big Four Railroad and City Officials Consider Plans.

Special to The Star

GALION, April 22—Plans for building a new reservoir to serve the increasing needs of the city and of the New York Central railroad were suggested today when Mayor William Amann and Service Director Charles R. Geiger met with officials of the railroad, T. J. Hayes, Springfield, superintendent of the Ohio Division; F. N. Reynolds, Indianapolis, assistant manager of the N. Y. Central system, and Paul Hamilton, Cincinnati, chief engineer were among those here to discuss immediate plans.

Mayor Amann said that the railroad was interested in building a new reservoir immediately in order to provide for the increased needs of the summer months. At the present time the railroad requires 700,000 gallons of water every 24 hours, and during the summer months it is necessary to curtail this supply to about 200,000 gallons a day.

Three propositions were presented to the mayor by the railroad officials—one, that the city build the reservoir and sell water to the railroad, or two, that the railroad build the reservoir and sell water to the city, or three, that they build the reservoir jointly.

Mayor Amann said that the city would probably prefer that the railroad sell the water to Galion because the necessary legislation for the city to build a reservoir would take considerably more time than is desirable in order to fulfill the immediate needs of the railroad.

The proposed site would be east of the city between the Big Four yards and Whetstone creek, north of Route 30-S.

The city council is expected to take action on the plan in the near future.

School Vocational Program Scheduled Next Week.

The second annual vocational guidance conference for public school pupils in the ninth through the twelfth grades will be conducted next Wednesday morning. About 1,500 young people are expected to participate.

Arrangements for the conference were virtually completed last night at a meeting of Supt. E. E. Holt with representatives of the sponsoring bodies who are the vocational guidance council.

The organizations cooperating with the public school administration in conducting the conference are the Rotary, Kiwanis and Lions clubs, the Altrusa club, the central bodies of the A. F. of L. and the C. I. O., and the Y. M. C. A.

This year a survey made in preparation for the conference revealed 34 fields in which the young people are interested, the superintendent said. Thirty-seven guest speakers will address the various groups.

The list of speakers will be announced within a few days.

Arthur Horrocks, public relations director for the Goodyear Tire & Rubber Co., has accepted an invitation to address the general assembly at 9 a. m. in the Palace theater. The one-hour program at the theater will be broadcast by Station WMRN.

At 10 the young people will divide into the various conference groups and will meet with the guest speakers in rooms at Harding High school and Central Junior High school. Each group will have an hour and a half for discussion.

At 12 noon the sponsoring organizations will give a luncheon in the ballroom of Hotel Harding, for the guest speakers and the vocational guidance council, at which the conference will be evaluated.

BOARD DROPS TWO PRECINCTS

Montgomery and Salt Rock Township Affected; Four Changes in City.

Announcement that the Marion county board of elections has eliminated two county precincts and transferred two city voting places in an economy move was made today by C. G. Ritzler, deputy clerk of the board.

He said elimination of the two precincts will result in an annual saving of $300 and that the transfer of the voting places will save $50 in rental fees.

There formerly were three precincts in Montgomery township; they were Agosta, Montgomery-east and Montgomery-west. The board has joined the Agosta precinct with almost all of the old Montgomery-east precinct, which includes a section extending from the DeCliff road to the township line. The old Montgomery-east precinct extended two miles west of the DeCliff road. The newly formed precinct will be known as the Agosta-Montgomery precinct. Voting in the revised precincts will be conducted in Agosta and LaRue.

Another Elimination

Elimination of the other precinct was in Salt Rock township, where the formerly separate precincts of Salt Rock township and Morral have now been combined into one precinct to be known as the Morral-Salt Rock precinct. Voting in this precinct will be conducted at the town house in Morral.

Mr. Ritzler said these economies could not be effected earlier because of a state law which prohibited the union of a township precinct with a village precinct.

Changes in City

Mr. Ritzler also announced the following changes made in city wards: (1) the place of voting in the Fourth ward, Precinct D, has been moved from 370 Blaine avenue to the Olney avenue school building; (2) the section south of Columbia street from Windsor street to Columbia court has been transferred from 4-D to 4-B; (3) the section on Park boulevard from Darius street south and the section on the west side of Miami street have been moved from 4-B to 4-D and (4) the place of voting in 2-A has been moved from the Marion Lumber Co. to the old Central High school building on Oak street.

Billions of Bees To Be Mobilized in Government's Biggest Army

... Minn. —(Wide ... Uncle Sam's biggest ... spring some 600,000,000 ... bees—is mobilizing ... war effort.

... the advantages the gov- ... has offered, and the use ... recommended methods to- ... with an increase in the ... of bee colonies, I think ... conservatively hope for ... production this year from 20 ... as much as 50 per cent greater than last year.

"There is honey to be harvested in quantity. Last season, hundreds of millions of pounds were wasted because there weren't enough bees to harvest it."

Use of honey as a sugar substitute brings smiles to the faces of beekeepers, not so much because prices are rising—their costs are rising, too—but because they hope the emergency has created a demand that will continue after the war.

Commercial Demand

"Much of the new demand," Dr. Tanquary says, "has come from commercial users such as bakers, and candy and ice cream makers. They are finding that while honey costs somewhat more than sugar, it enables them to turn out a superior product.

"For honey has everything that sugar has and a lot more besides. As a food it is far superior to sugar since it is a natural sweet—not refined like sugar—is more quickly digested, and contains food values, such as minerals and vitamins, not possessed by sugar."

A survey of tested honey recipes indicates that in general honey may be substituted for sugar, cup for cup, with a compensating supply—production last year was only about two pounds per capita—and cost probably will determine how widely it can be used as a substitute.

Prices Doubled

Heavy demand has just about doubled honey prices in the last two months.

Beeswax — worth about four or five times as much per pound as honey—finds its principal uses in polishes and greases. It is in demand now for gun lubricants, cartridge wax and grease, leather dressing and polish, snowshoe wax, adhesive compositions and waterproofing textiles.

And even the bee sting has its uses. Some physisicians have found bee venom effective in treating some forms of rheumatism.

Ohio's Road Signs Called Tire Savers

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., April 22—Ohio's bright yellow road signs and markings are more than safety warnings, they're tire savers, Col. Lynn Black, chief of the state highway patrol, said today.

"Observance of markings and signs—especially those for curves and stops—will add several thousand miles to the life of tires," Black asserted. "While cutting highway speed from the legal limit of 50 to the suggested rate of 40 will give the motorist 5,000 to 8,000 more miles of tire wear."

The highway patrol can't force the motorist to follow their instructions but Black reported that the "public has cooperated above all expectations" in cutting their speed to 40 on the highway.

SEIZES ENEMY HELD PATENTS

Presidential Order Includes German Methods of Rubber and Fuel Manufacture.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, April 22—America's war production effort burst through into new channels today under the impetus of a presidential order seizing all enemy owned or controlled patents including Germans patents on the manufacture of synthetic rubber and fuels.

... of synthetic rubber and ... fuels.

President Roosevelt announced the seizure order yesterday at a press conference sandwiched between a series of war councils with representatives of the United Nations.

The announcement was hailed by members of the patent investigating committee who said they might broaden proposed legislation to give the government greater control over patents.

"A very salutary and necessary step," said Senator Pepper (D-Fla), a member of the committee.

Mr. Roosevelt, invoking his wartime emergency powers, said legal and technical obstacles would be brushed aside and the several thousand patents controlled by axis nations would be explored and developed for whatever use they may be to America at war.

The first consideration, he declared, was to win.

And when the war is over, he went on, the patents will not be permitted to revert to alien hands, as they did after the first World War.

Leo Crowley, alien property custodian, disclosed that the President's orders already were being carried out—that researchers even now were studying once-forbidden processes for making artificial rubber, fuels, foods and fabrics as well as all kinds of drugs, biologicals, electrical equipment and diesel engines.

Among these, he said, were rubber and gasoline patents held by I. G. Farbenindustrie, the notorious German dye trust.

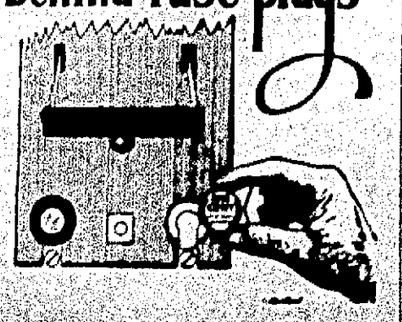
pennies behind fuse plugs CAUSE COSTLY FIRES



● A Fuse is the "Safety Valve" of an Electrical circuit. When the Circuit becomes overloaded, a Fuse should "blow," to keep the wires from overheating and possibly causing a fire.

● So using a penny or anything but a Fuse to close an open circuit and restore electric service, makes a "Safety Valve-less" circuit, which can become overheated and cause a fire.

● The National Board of Fire Underwriters recommend the use of Fuses marked "15 amp." on all lighting circuits, unless a qualified person determines that larger ones can be used with Safety because of sufficiently large wire. To get proper Fuses, buy only those bearing the Inspection Label of the Underwriters' Laboratories.

Why Yes, Why Not?

ONE type of comment produced by the bombing of cities in Japan by United States planes needs to be pinned down without delay.

It was an expression of sorrow because the United States had fallen to the same level of inhumanity as the countries that hoped to conquer the world with aerial bombs.

Nothing would be nicer than to know that this country and its allies could survive in this war by fighting according to the strictest ideas of what is fair.

Americans always have abhorred the bombing of civilian population. They have tried to outlaw submarine warfare. They have tried to obtain agreements not to use poison gas. In many ways, this country has tried to uphold the humanitarian ideal in war. The United States, it also should be remembered, has tried to outlaw war. It has gone so far in its efforts to make war impossible, in fact, that it is individually responsible in large part for the fact that Germany and Japan were able to get the world by the throat with so little resistance.

It is a simple case, therefore, of fighting fire with fire, not from choice but necessity. The United States is using its submarines to the utmost and is hoping to build dozens more in the near future; it must counter Germany's U-boat blockade with some equally effectual blockading of its own or lose the war.

The United States is going to fill the sky with the strongest and fastest bombers ever built and give every enemy city it can reach a double dose of what their country's bombers have done to civilian populations for years. This country is not going to use poison gas first, but if the enemy decides to use it this country will fight with poison gas. It is going to do what must be done to keep the aggressors from winning the war.

Perhaps there is some better way—passive resistance or hypnotism or yogi. But they are untried; the only certain way to keep from getting licked in war is to fight a better war than the other side.

Yes, and the Americans who man the bombers are going to hit some hospitals and schools, too. That seems to be the favorite bleat of the Axis propagandists—that some hospitals and schools were hit. Every American hopes fervently that the rest of the bombs may hit some war factories and munitions dumps and rail centers, but for luck of anything better, hospitals and schools will do, since the Germans and Japanese have so many of them that they can't be missed, apparently.

A Blow That Must Not Fall

IT IS freely admitted on all sides that the gravest danger in the Laval setup is a possible sell-out of French possessions to Germany. For the United States, this means that Guadeloupe, Martinique, French Guiana, St. Pierre, Miquelon and a number of smaller islands in this hemisphere must be kept safe for the United Nations.

The American public, it hardly needs to be said, is not prepared to condone any half measures in the job of minimizing the effect of Laval's puppet administration on the war against Germany. Specifically, it is not prepared to hear suddenly that the aircraft carrier Bearn has left the harbor at Martinique, that German submarines have been using French possessions in this hemisphere for any purpose whatsoever, or that "tourists" have become interested in French Guinea.

The United States has tried hard to appease Vichy. The extent of its success may be guessed at from the fact that Laval has been placed in power there; Adolf Hitler, apparently, is certain that here is one man who will serve no one but Adolf Hitler. Under the circumstances, further gestures of appeasement would appear not only useless but foolhardy. If it should be necessary to seize all French possessions as a security measure, public approval could be had for the asking.

Gone But Not Forgotten

WHERE the office of civilian defense once sprawled, with shelter for archery coordinators, ballroom dancers and anything else the cat might drag in, there is nothing left now but a clutter of interesting ruins. OCD, as it started out to be, is gone but not forgotten.

Effect of a presidential order is to put the office under guidance of the army and navy, retaining James M. Landis as director. Simultaneously, Federal Security McNutt has come up fast out of nowhere to drop a demolition bomb on the division of physical fitness, which had been plucked out of the office of civilian defense and turned over to him to dispose of as he saw fit.

All this has no direct bearing on the war effort. It does, however, have considerable bearing on the effort to preserve the thing the war is being fought about—the right of a free people to rise in their wrath and give government a razzberry when it deserves one. They gave the razzberry to the horse feather aspects of the office of civilian defense—and it's beginning to look as though they got results.

News Behind the News

Unofficial News from Atlantic Tells of Navy's Anti-Sub Accomplishments.

By PAUL MALLON

WASHINGTON, April 22 — No news has been good news from the Atlantic lately. Reports of Nazi sinkings dropped off nearly to zero after a peak about three weeks back.

Permanent conclusions are not warranted because announcements of both our losses and German claims are ordinarily delayed a week or two. Yet there are many stories in circulation in shipping quarters—wholly unofficial, of course—suggesting the navy has accomplished decisive results.

One is that 30 German and Italian subs have been sunk by us in the last two weeks. Not many more than this number could have been involved at the peak of the attack.

There is another story about the bodies of 20 Axis seamen retrieved from the waters of the sea and brought for burial to a special plot near one of our Atlantic ports.

Still another (this one is more unofficial) suggests an American fishing vessel, hard at work offshore was suddenly confronted by a rising Nazi periscope. The fishermen expected the worst and were getting ready for it when a German voice, from the now risen conning tower asked if they had any fish for sale.

While negotiations were in process, under the duress of an imminent torpedo, the Nazis got some fish they did not expect, flying fish. A patrol plane spotted the sub and sank same.

Bombing of Japan

The painful silence of the navy and army after the bombing of Japan was not painful around headquarters. The authorities here enjoyed their best laughs of the war listening to the Tokyo radio.

Obviously the Japs never knew what hit them. First they said the planes were B-26 medium Martins, then B-25 North Americans and on both occasions they acted like they had just seized possession of a hot new secret ship.

Those two planes may be secrets to them, but they are not new. They have been in service a long time. Perhaps the Japs just did not know they had such range.

Anyway, they first announced the planes came from carriers, then from the Aleutians, next from the Philippines. The only thing they were clear about was that they came from the skies. Three days later they did not appear to know whether the planes were army or navy.

Part of this ethereal fulminating may have been put on to smoke us out, but it was too all-fired serious to be anything except a confession of a break in morale—which, of course, was the purpose of the bombing.

Mr. Roosevelt is displaying a new interest in semantics. First he wanted a new descriptive phrase for the war, then he wanted another word for inflation.

It is safe to say the search for an adequate adjective for the war did not work out altogether sensationally. "The survival war" does not dramatize the whole case, nor does any of the others offered.

Phonetically as good as any was one coined by Mort J. Donaghue, a California publicity expert, to whom it seemed to be "war for world freedom" but that may not fully dramatize Russia's interest in it or China's. It is just too far-flung for adequate pin-pointed description.

But the news that Roosevelt is searching for a substitute for the word inflation, just before sending a message to congress to stop it, has aroused more than lexicographic interest. The idea suggests he has found and is preparing the way for an entirely new conception of what we have and what should be done about it.

Common speech and common thought is along the line that rising prices and economic factors mean inflation and that it should be met by stopping those economic factors arbitrarily. If the President wants to call it something new, he must want to do something new about it.

Price Freezing

Leon Henderson's organization is known to have prepared an order to freeze prices at the highest levels between Feb. 25 and March 25. This period was selected to nip a few smart fellows who started increasing their prices after March 25 to beat the game. Both wholesale and retail prices would be affected simultaneously.

His legal division is supposed to have decided it has the power to go that far, but does not possess the legal mechanics for handling interest rates, wages, hourly rates of pay, without legislation, and its farm price power is on a flimsy basis.

The only thing certain is that efforts to anticipate the President's message are apt to be wrong.

Our Breaks with France

History Records We've Been on the Outs Four Times.

Wide World Features

FRENCHMEN provided much of the philosophy behind the American Revolution. France helped the thirteen colonies win the Revolutionary war. France presented the Statue of Liberty. French poilus fought shoulder to shoulder with Yankee doughboys in the World war.

And yet history is only repeating itself when headlines blazon "U.S.-French Relations Strained."

Four times before now have France and the United States been at outs.

Not counting the bloody French-Indian wars before the colonies became a nation, the first difficulties between the two countries developed in 1793.

In that year France and England began another war in their long series. France expected America to live up to the mutual aid treaty signed during the Revolutionary war. But George Washington proclaimed American neutrality. He asserted that the old alliance expired with the death of the French monarchy.

France Offended

France's Citizen Genet slipped into America, tried to outfit privateers to war on British shipping. Already disturbed by the excesses of the French Revolution, Americans flared up, insisted that Genet be replaced. France didn't like it.

Then the Jay treaty between England and America angered the French still further. American envoys sent to France to remedy the situation were called upon by the French minister Talleyrand for a $220,000 bribe. John Adams made the facts public and the situation became known as the XYZ affair. Public indignation rallied around the fighting slogan, "Millions for defense, not one ship for tribute."

Our Ships Attacked

The French started harassing American shipping. French men-of-war sank our ships off the south Atlantic coast. Congress authorized raising an army, approved construction of 12 new warships. The U. S. frigate Constellation captured a French frigate. Three hundred American merchantmen were armed. It was undeclared war.

But Talleyrand backed down, disavowed the insults. In 1801 a new convention was signed, abrogating the troublesome first alliance.

Soon after that Thomas Jefferson became disturbed because powerful France had taken over New Orleans and the Mississippi valley. Anti-French feeling arose, died down when Napoleon in 1803 agreed to sell the territory. The United States made the Louisiana purchase, its biggest bargain yet, for $27,267,622.

We Picked The British

In 1812 it was almost a tossup whether America would fight England or France. Both countries were violating American shipping and international rights once more. But the British were rougher and American sympathies were pro-French. So the War of 1812 was with the British.

It was another Napoleon who caused the last crisis until now, Louis Napoleon Bonaparte, nephew of the conqueror. In 1861 he sent an army to Mexico to set up Maximilian of Austria as ruler of that proposed addition to the French empire.

The United States was busy at the time with its Civil war, but soon after that ended, Yankee veterans made ready as if to expel the would-be monarch. The French withdrew.

It was nearly sixty years later that an American soldier said in Paris, "LaFayette, we are here."

Planes, Tanks, Guns Must Be Delivered

Shipping Called Most Serious Bottleneck.

PRODUCTION of planes, tanks and guns is rising—but getting them into the hands that are anxious to use them against the Axis is something else.

"Our long lines of communications plus our commitments to Latin American neighbors have temporarily made merchant shipping our worst bottleneck," observes Barron's, the financial weekly. "Shipping is the main problem that now faces this country. More important even than the raw materials of shipbuilding, of which America has an abundance, are the total man-hours worked in building ships."

During the pre-war decade, when American shipbuilding was being neglected, the totalitarian powers were looking ahead. They were building at an accelerated rate. But the American shipbuilding program calls for more merchant ships than were produced in the entire world during the previous decade. Hal F. Lee, author of Barron's analysis of the shipbuilding problem, writes:

"Of all the nations in the world, America has the greatest resources available for a mighty shipbuilding industry. From the firs and spruce of Canada to the hard woods of the Caribbean countries, we are more plentifully supplied with woods for shipbuilding than any other continent. We are the world's greatest producer of iron and steel for the ship's hull and engines. We have the largest supplies of turpentine, pitch, rosin and other naval stores. We have more than adequate supplies of copper and other non-ferrous metals with which to make brass and other alloy fittings for ships. Despite the loss of Philippine hemp, we have ample supplies of henequen, maguey and other leaf and bast fibres available on this continent."

THE writer's summation of the ship shortage and the prospect of overcoming it is contained in the following paragraphs:

"What we are interested in today most is the rate of replacement of sunk tonnage. A clue of this may be gained from the gross tonnage launched during pre-war years by the respective countries. But this is only a clue, of course, and whether European or British drydocks have been trebled in size or bombed into smithereens is a matter for conjecture. Your guess is as good as anyone's.

Of the 10,000,000 tons of new merchant tonnage which slid down the ways in the five years preceding the war, the British and the Americans accounted for 4,365,000 tons. Continental Europe and Japan built 5,626,000 tons. During this period Germany and Japan launched from two to three times as much merchant tonnage annually as the United States. Before that it was even worse.

These were the years of which Winston Churchill wrote in his memorable "While England Slept." Yet during these years Britain's output of merchant shipping was nearly as great as that of the 11 shipbuilding countries of the European continent. We were the ones who slept as year after year of the 1930's ticked by with the drums of war pounding ever louder.

In the first half of 1939, on the very doorstep of war, someone must have looked into the matter and observed that pigmy Japan had launched more new ships than all North America in every year since 1932. For, during that final six months before Hitler invaded Poland, we launched 167,000 tons of merchant vessels amidst a din of bursting champagne bottles and photographers' flash bulbs. Japan launched only 148,000 tons in this period. Germany 211,000.

It goes without saying that from this point we have forged ahead of all other nations and will continue to maintain world leadership. But it also goes without saying that someone should have given Uncle Sam van Winkle a good healthy nudge along about 1935, when the Nazis alone were launching seven times as much new tonnage as we were.

THE present is no time to attempt to fix the blame for our shortsightedness. It's no use stopping to argue about that now. Whether the fault lay with the government and the maritime commission; whether shipbuilders should be held accountable; or whether the LaFollette seamen's law hampered our efforts, it's the country's loss. We, the people, will have to make up for the sins of omission, regardless of the doorstep at which they may eventually be laid.

We are a nation whose merchant marine has proud traditions. Whether we are identified with government, capital or labor; in this instance we're all literally "in the same boat" — and we all just wish it were a larger boat.

The total number of man-hours worked in all industry in the various countries during the pre-war decade is, in itself, a fairly reliable index of gross tonnages produced. Particularly is this true of the shipbuilding industry. By May of the year in which war broke out (using 1929 as 100 per cent employment in industry), our employment figure stood at 70.6 per cent; that of France, 71.6 per cent; Italy, 109.8 per cent; Germany, 128 per cent; and Japan, 177.1 per cent. The chart on Employment in Industry shows these employment trends for the whole pre-war decade. Japan's and Germany's shipbuilding increased the most rapidly during the 1930's.

In that period, unemployment in Japan never exceeded 6.8 per cent of the total employable population. The depression level (1932) compared with 22.1 per cent unemployment in Great Britain; 25.9 per cent in the United States.

BETWEEN now and the end of 1945, over 18,000,000 deadweight tons of merchant shipping will come off the ways in this country, according to Admiral H. L. Vickery, of the U. S. maritime commission—more than all the ships built in the world during the pre-war decade. In the month of February we put 28 ships into operation—a ship a day. By midsummer the rate is scheduled to be stepped up to two ships a day.

Since the start of the gigantic program, nearly 200 ships have been "delivered"—fully commissioned and ready for operation. A total of 750 is scheduled to be completed by the end of this year; an additional thousand or more during 1943.

In the last war it required seven months and 24 days to complete a ship. This has been reduced to 105 days per ship—60 days on the ways and 45 days for outfitting. In all, our program calls for the construction of 2,877 vessels by 1945—a victory armada that will enable us to carry the war to the enemy wherever he may be.

But Admiral Vickery sounds a warning note. There must be no more strikes or slowdowns.

Secret Orders

BY ELEANOR ATTERBURY

CHAPTER TWELVE

Planes In The Night

DOWN at Headquarters that morning, excitement raged like a prairie fire. Stephanie answered telephones, enrolled volunteers, recorded subscriptions, ran errands, grateful for the intense preoccupation that kept her thoughts away from the details of the carnage at Pearl Harbor that were gradually sifting back to the mainland. And Kurt, where was he?

But she wouldn't let herself go on. Instead, she drove her mind ruthlessly to the work piled high before her. Work in terms of mountains of sliced bread to be made into sandwiches for the boys posted on the bridges, guarding the docks, the power stations, the nerve centers of the great, busy city.

Stacks and stacks of sandwiches, gallons of coffee, hundreds of trips to the string of cars and station wagons Red Cross workers would drive bearing food to boys patrolling cold, lonely beats. Stephanie herself would have taken her place at the wheel of one of the cars but for Henri.

"My dear girl," he protested, meeting her at the doorway as she staggered under the burden of a huge carton of food. "You look so fatigued. You must get some rest."

"Can't, Henry," she muttered. "Too much to do."

"But you will not be able to help if you wear yourself out, Stephanie," he argued reasonably. "You cannot do everything in one day."

"He's right, Miss Merrill," one of the older women agreed. "You've done your part for today, certainly." And to Henri. "Take her home, young man."

Stephanie smiled wearily. "Okay, Henri." And let him lead her to his car. "How did you happen to be down here anyway, interfering with the work of the Red Cross?" she asked as they drove across busy Market street, headed for the hilly residential district.

He smiled. "I had an idea you would be there, working too hard. You must not do so much."

"But—there is so much to be done and so few—" She stopped as the rising wail of a siren swelled from an ominous whine to a heart-chilling scream. "What's that!"

Street lights winked off giving her the answer before Henri's cool. "Air-raid signal, Stephanie. This is a blackout."

Blackout

They had reached the crest of the Sonoma street hill. Henri now pulled the car to the curb, snapped off the engine. Instantly, Stephanie climbed out, stood watching the lights in the city below disappearing in whole blocks at one stroke. Lights on the bridge below, on the shores across the throat of the harbor, all blotted up now by darkness.

"A blackout!" Stephanie whispered, appalled. "San Francisco—blacked out for an air raid! It can't be happening!"

"But it can be," Henri said quietly at her shoulder. "It is happening."

Her fists curled deep in the pockets of her warm coat. "They wouldn't dare!"

She felt rather than saw him shrug. "But they are daring!"

"Come on. Let's walk the rest of the way to the house. We can watch the bay better from our porch," Stephanie suggested and started off without waiting for his answer.

For a while as she stood leaning against a porch pillar, looking out over the so-familiar scene that darkness was gradually covering with its pall, Stephanie forgot about Henri. And suddenly, tears were streaming down her cheeks. Bitter, angry tears of furious defiance.

"What can they do to us?" she heard her own voice blurt, angrily.

"Not much," Henri soothed calmly. "This coast is well-fortified. Besides, no invading army could get close enough to do any serious damage. Not with all the big guns planted around this harbor, for example. And down there," he pointed to the narrow opening of the Gate, "there are submarine nets under the surface, secret guns hidden on the banks. Out there," he pointed toward the vast black chasm of the ocean, "are hundreds of scouting planes, destroyers, cutters, all patrolling these waters."

"Let's hope so."

"You have nothing to worry about. A country as wealthy, as strong, as great as this one could not be seriously damaged."

"I wonder—" Stephanie shook her head. "Maybe we have been too sure. Then—Listen!"

Only a murmur at first, so faint that it could be something one's imagination dreamed up. Then stronger, steadily stronger. A roar of planes flying high. And flying nearer every moment.

"Planes!"

Henri laughed. "Probably American planes."

Fingers of searchlights played now against the black curtain of the night. Slim, stabbing shafts of light dwarfed by the overwhelming darkness.

"What if they are foreign planes?" she demanded. "What if—"

Henri's hand touched her arm reassuringly. "Don't torture yourself by fancied dangers. If they were enemy planes, dont you suppose American Army or Navy planes would be shooting them down? This is only a precautionary measure, Stephanie."

Still unconvinced, Stephanie's chin notched higher. Peering up at the overcast skies, she knew Henri was only trying to be helpful. This was no mock raid. This was war!

"Let's walk down to the end of the garden. We can see the foot of the bridge from there," she suggested, starting down the steps.

"Take care. You might stumble. Perhaps it would be better—"

But Stephanie didn't wait for his remonstrance. A moment later, she heard him following her down the gravelled path. Then, even as she shuddered with the eerie sense of being in a strange world, she was aware of a light. Leaping like a beacon ray, it stabbed the darkness from behind her.

"Where is that light coming from?" she called to Henri.

"What light?"

"There!" She ran back up the path. "It looks like one of our own bedrooms. Maybe Tsong forgot to—"

"Probably. Anyway, one light won't matter."

"Of course it matters!" She brushed past him. "It stands out like a lighthouse."

But it wasn't Tsong's forgetfulness. At the top of the slope, she stopped, staring. That light came from the Miller house! A skylight window from the attic blazed with a white light.

"Look" she called over her shoulder to Henri. "It's at Millers'. I'm going to tell them."

Again, Henri tried to detain her. "One of the servants will discover it in a moment."

Stephanie faced him. "What's the matter with you? Don't you want that light off?"

"Certainly, if it matters that much to you." Henri smiled disarmingly. "Only I think you are making a great deal of trouble over an insignificance."

"Maybe! And again, maybe one of those Jap servants over there didn't leave that light on by mistake!"

Henri chuckled. "Stephanie darling, you've been seeing too many movies. Those things don't happen in these United States!"

But Stephanie didn't stop longer to argue. She raced down the drive, ducked through the hedge, across the darkened garden.

A Service for All Defense and Agricultural Workers in Marion and Vicinity who cannot shop during regular store hours.

After a careful study of the situation, it was found that many workers are unable to find time to shop during present store hours. Often they were obliged to make selections just a few minutes before closing time.

Realizing that this is an emergency, Marion Retail Merchants want to cooperate by changing store hours so that workers may be provided a time in which to shop comfortably and leisurely.

Employes in our Marion stores are cooperating willingly, anxious to do their share to be of service to their fellow workers. Our hope is that as soon as the need has passed, we may go back to our regular store hours.

We urge our customers who can shop during the daytime to leave the evening shopping period for those who are unable to be downtown during the day.

Threat of Famine Seen by Farm Group

By The Associated Press

INDIANAPOLIS, April 22—The National Association of Farmers, claiming to represent wheat growers in 10 states, says "compulsory" features of the 1938 agriculture adjustment act "may bring on a famine."

Secretaries of state organization officials have been instructed to send a letter containing this warning to congressmen.

The letter, adopted yesterday at a meeting of about 40 wheat men from Ohio and eight other states, declared the provisions of the law were "entirely unpopular" with farmers and expressed approval of congressional candidates opposing them.

The association set forth opposition to penalties for selling wheat over quota and to procedure under which a nationwide referendum is to be held May 2 to decide on 1942 wheat marketing quotas.

Japanese Prayers Not Intended To Benefit America

By DE WITT MacKENZIE
Wide World War Analyst

Word that Japanese Christians are praying for peace has been broadcast to the world by the official Tokyo news agency, Domei, thereby entitling us (indeed probably inviting us) to draw the conclusion that the government has started a peace movement.

This extraordinary bit of propaganda by Domei follows the warning given by Archibald MacLeish, director of the office of facts and figures, that the axis would launch a peace offensive this summer.

Any peace campaign by the axis powers now is filled with peril for the allies, since it is motivated by a desire to be free to consolidate their ill-gotten conquests and get set for further brigandage. The Hitlerian brotherhood has made its ambitions too clear for there to be any misunderstanding on our part, Japan, in particular, within recent days has been screaming to high heaven that it was going to crush America and Britain.

This is no time for the allies to join in prayers for peace, that is, a negotiated peace. The war for survival in which we are engaged must be fought to a definite conclusion—until the powers of evil have been uprooted and utterly destroyed. No half-way business this time.

I hope readers won't charge me with having an unchristian spirit. I believe in prayer, but not to ask that the devil be unleashed to stalk the world. There's nothing in christianity that tells us to compromise with the devil.

Let's pray for strength to smash the enemy quickly.

on the Russian front, may be the moment when Italians may safely launch their peace plans because the Germans will not be in a position to check the Italians by force."

The dispatch said Premier Mussolini's prestige was now so low that if the Italian royal family decided upon a peace offer "neither the weakened Fascist party nor the Germans could prevent the offer being made."

Yesterday the Tokyo radio quoted Toyohiko Kagawa, Japan's best-known Christian leader, as saying Japanese Christians were praying "for an early conclusion of the war."

Meanwhile, German authorities in Paris announced the execution of more French hostages today even as France's Vichy regime was reported seeking a reprieve for 20 hostages held under death sentence at St. Nazaire where townspeople aided British commandos in their spectacular raid on the Nazi-occupied base, March 28.

Shot In Reprisal

The Paris announcement said the victims, described as Communists, Jews and accomplices, were shot in reprisal for alleged assassination attempts against German soldiers on April 2, 8 and 20.

Advices reaching Bern, Switzerland, said that the St. Nazaire hostages, including several prominent residents, had been sentenced to be shot but that the executions were put off as a result of Vichy's intervention.

Smouldering fires of revolt against the Nazi conquerors was reflected anew as German authorities in Paris clamped down an 11 p. m. curfew and ordered all public places closed in the occupied capital until 5 a. m. Friday.

The Germans said these measures were taken in reprisal for the assassination of a German soldier in Paris Monday night.

In the Russian campaign, Soviet dispatches reported that the Red army had broken a second hole through Finnish front lines in Karelia, northeast of Leningrad, knifing six miles deep into positions manned by reserves.

also been added to the repaired buildings.

Fifty-five stoves have arrived to be placed in the various dormitories in addition to eight kitchen ranges for the concrete building.

More than 1,000 feet of sewer and water pipes have been strung through the grounds and two fire hydrants have been added, both of which have been tested by the fire department.

Contract for construction of the new buildings will probably be let late this week to a Columbus contractor who was low bidder when bids were asked last week.

Nature of the training will be considered a military secret.

An advance official staff of 19 men headed by Lt. Col. Lester I. Meek arrived in Bucyrus last week-end to await the arrival of the first soldiers. The soldiers are to come in groups.

PLANT SITE OPTIONS NEARING COMPLETION

Negotiations Closed for 90% of Ordnance Works Location.

Optioning of Scioto Ordnance Plant farms passed the 90 per cent mark yesterday and the task probably will be completed within a few days, the land acquisition office of the army engineers reported.

William Piers, project manager, said the few not signed include one or two owned by out-of-county residents. Their papers have been sent for signatures. In another case the property was involved in litigation and a court order to determine ownership will be needed, and in still another the owner had delayed signing because of illness.

The optioning program is the next to the final step in closing deals for the properties. The options will be followed by the actual purchase of the land and the recording of deeds. Farmers are expected to get their checks in a few weeks.

Old Home Place Undergoes Change

The old song goes "Where e'er we may roam, there's no place like home."

Old sentiment is alive today around the site of the new Scioto Ordnance Plant but the flood of memories isn't confined to the families directly affected.

This week the Marion Chamber of Commerce received the following letter from Ottumwa, Ia.:

"I was reading yesterday of an ordnance plant being built near Marion and as I was born and grew up near a church called Likens Chapel, would like very much to know just where this plant is located.

"I left Ohio 52 years ago but still call it back home and am very much interested in what takes place back there. Would you be so kind as to mail some literature about same.

"Thanking you kindly I will very much appreciate anything from Marion very much. Sincerely,

Mrs. J. C. Wallace,
1017 Lee Avenue."

Since the writer did not give her maiden name there was no way of tracing her family in the county, but the Chamber of Commerce sent her the clipping from The Star telling of the farewell services at her dearly-remembered Likens Chapel church, and the news story as to its use in connection with the ordnance plant.

ARMY AND NAVY ACT TO HALT SLOWDOWNS

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, April 22—The army and navy were disclosed today to be pooling efforts with five other government agencies in an attempt to combat industrial slowdowns in war production work.

Describing such slowdowns as "reprehensible," Senator Byrd (D-Va) made public a letter from Daniel S. Ring, director of maritime personnel, reporting that efforts were under way to develop a "centralized method of treatment of this problem." Ring did not outline the method.

Byrd told reporters he was convinced that in many instances deliberate attempts had been made to retard production, or else inefficiency of management or "Washington bureaucracy" had produced the same results. He said he would ask the senate naval affairs committee to make a thorough investigation if immediate remedial steps were not taken.

"We can't tolerate this kind of thing," he declared. "It makes no difference who is to blame. It's got to stop."

Byrd previously created a stir by publicizing a report by Rear Admiral C. W. Fisher, director of naval shore establishments, asserting that work slowdowns had cut production in eight plants making vital war equipment for the navy.

NON-DEFENSE SPENDING TO BE TARGET OF G.O.P.

Martin Says People Fed Up With Extravagance.

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, April 22—A main target of Republican big guns in the fall campaign, Chairman Joseph W. Martin of the G.O.P. national committee believes, will be the Roosevelt administration's non-war spending.

"The people are willing that we spend all that is needed in the war effort but they are getting fed up on other expenditures," Martin said yesterday.

He said the party, from coast to coast, "is knit together as it has not been for more than a year," and that its financial condition was the best in history, virtually debt free.

"We have very little money on hand, however, and we'll run a poor man's campaign," Martin said.

A campaign program, he said, will be drafted at a conference the first week in June. The meeting will be in Cincinnati or St. Louis, probably St. Louis.

Rationing of Sugar To Begin on May 5

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, April 22—The nation's first rationing of food by stamps will start May 5, the office of price administration announced today, with the first stamp good for purchase of one pound of sugar during the period May 5 to May 16.

In an order setting forth details of the sugar rationing system, OPA disclosed that allotments to restaurants, hotels and the like would be cut 50 per cent under the amount used last year, while bakers, confectioners, beverage bottlers, and ice cream and dairy products producers would be limited to 70 per cent of past use.

Household consumers, who will register at grade schools throughout the country May 4-7, inclusive, will be entitled to purchase one pound of sugar with each of the first four stamps in war ration book No. 1.

The first stamp is valid May 5-16, the second May 17-30, the third May 31-June 13, and the fourth June 14-27.

Delaware Resident To Face Desertion Charge

DELAWARE, O., April 22—John C. Lake, 40, of Delaware has been released to military police to face charges of desertion from the army, Sheriff M. F. Pumphrey announced yesterday. He has been held in the Delaware county jail since April 7 when he was arrested here at the request of Fort Knox, Ky., officers.

Lake was arrested by county authorities on order of Fort Knox officers who called at his home to see him as a witness of an accident in Delaware involving an army truck returning to Fort Knox from the Army day observance at Cleveland. Lake told the officers he had been stationed at Fort Knox and had not returned from a furlough granted last August.

HOSPITAL

tors available and a lack of certain structural materials prohibits going any higher.

Mr. McLaughlin read excerpts of the Lanham act to members of the board to acquaint them with the law which provides for the undertaking of a hospitalization project during the defense emergency.

The act provides for PWA facilities in projects of a community nature in the defense program. Provision is made for such projects as are for sanitation, recreation, hospitalization, etc.

It is "an act to expedite the provision of housing in connection with national defense and for other purposes."

Probable Size of Grant

In a brief discussion period preceding Mr. McLaughlin's recommendations, it was revealed to board members that, should a government grant become available, it would probably be equal to the sum provided by the "owners." This was learned as a result of a study of similar situations in other defense areas, Mr. McLaughlin stated.

Asked what action he felt was necessary to get the project under way as soon as possible, Mr. McLaughlin presented the following two steps: (1) application to the proper government agency for a pre-construction survey and for necessary priority information and (2) contact with regional public health department officials in Chicago, through the state department of health, for a survey and cooperation with that department.

Mr. McLaughlin revealed his suggestions were based on information he had received from Washington from the offices of the Federal Works Agency and from members of the priorities staff.

Subsequent to a preliminary discussion among board members concerning proper steps to be taken immediately, Mr. McLaughlin asserted the problem facing the sponsors of the project and the architect himself have changed in two fundamental respects.

Cites War Plant Problem

"First," he said, in referring to the coming to Marion of the Scioto Ordnance Plant, "we have an increased burden both in capacity and cost. I think we should go into this thing with an open mind and realize we have an entirely new problem to face in the light of this government project. It seems to me," he continued, "that we must try to contact the proper authorities for approval of our project before we attempt to launch it."

Here Mr. McLaughlin read a telegram he had received from Col. William N. Carey of the corps of engineers in Washington, a Federal Works Agency official. In the telegram, which was a reply to an inquiry by Mr. McLaughlin, Col. Carey recommended that D. R. Kennicott, FWA regional engineer in Chicago, be contacted for authentic information as to the proper procedure to be followed.

"We've got to know and understand the federal regulations in these matters before we undertake even the first phases of the project," Mr. McLaughlin said. He mentioned the ordnance plant again as a special cause for a complete understanding of the requirements.

In a letter received from Mr. Kennicott, it was explained the first move of the board or the properly designated official should be to apply for federal aid and priority eligibility standing.

"In the light of all these advices," the architect said, I believe we should put our problem in the lap of the government by applying for a survey to determine bed capacity needed and we should get our priority application in immediately."

Doesn't Fear Priorities

Attempting to clarify an impression that priorities might not be available for such a project as the hospital plan calls for, Mr. McLaughlin said the War Production Board's order would not prevent the project.

The board indicated it would take immediate action in contacting the various authorities mentioned by Mr. McLaughlin.

Further explaining his suggestions in the matter of approaching the Washington officials, Mr. McLaughlin said that surveys from the proper authorities will provide a definite plan to proceed by and that by so doing "we will know what we're really trying to shoot at."

He said: "We don't want to make any mistakes in this undertaking and the survey will not only protect us in this but also will help us in determining the proper bed capacity."

Mr. McLaughlin said that the original estimate of the cost of the hospital, calculated on a per-bed basis, has now advanced because of the government project which will cause an extra hospitalization burden.

With Mr. McLaughlin at the meeting was John Kiel, an associate in the Linn firm.

JAP PLANES

pect of new American bombing raids came to light in a second and stronger warning by the Tokyo government against spreading rumors, which it said would be "henceforth a punishable offense."

Apparently attempting to quell unrest, the government first cautioned the people against "baseless rumors" immediately after announcing last Saturday's surprise raids on Tokyo, Yokohama, Nagoya and Kobe.

Japanese military authorities continued to minimize the damage inflicted in the history-making assaults, with a spokesman asserting that not more than a dozen houses were destroyed in Tokyo.

Roundabout reports from Japan declared several of the American raiders attempting to reach bases in free China had been forced to make emergency landings in Japanese-occupied China and had been captured.

One report said some of the downed fliers would be taken to Shanghai to meet newspaper correspondents.

LONDON, April 22—A Berlin broadcast heard here today denied that any official German spokesman ever prophesied that the German offensive on the Russian front would start in April.

"This is merely propaganda," the Berlin announcer said. He declared that "the date of the offensive will be determined solely by the Fuehrer."

Gasoline Rationing for East Due in May

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, April 22—Informed government officials said today a plan for rationing gasoline on the eastern seaboard would be announced soon, to become effective some time in May and allowing each motorist "around five gallons a week."

Details of the plan were withheld, but an OPA spokesman predicted the cut in gasoline supplies would be "drastic."

The permitted amount for each motorist would be purchasable on presentation of some type of ration card but the ration books to be issued under the sugar distribution plan would not be used, it was understood.

CINCINNATI PITCHING FALTERS AS CARDINALS WIN 8 -

Bucky Walters Loses Second Start in Allowing St. Louis 11 Hits.

By JUDSON BAILEY
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Cincinnati Reds are staggering groggily at the doorway to the National league cellar and finally learning what their best friends wouldn't tell them during spring training.

The Reds' pitching, one of baseball's marvels for the last three years, suddenly has faltered.

Yesterday the St. Louis Cardinals shut out the Redlegs, 8-0. The fact that Cincinnati did not score would never cause a ripple of concern anywhere, because the club never has been able to hit, but that Bucky Walters gave up 11 hits in 6 1/3 innings was a matter of moment.

In their six games so far the Reds have had to use 11 hurlers. Elmer Riddle, the league's leading twirler last year, was belted off the mound in the first inning he pitched this season. Gene Thompson lasted only three frames in his first start. John Vander Meer pitched a five-hitter but spoiled it with the "one bad inning" he seems to have in game after game.

Walters' Second Loss

Walters was beaten in the opening game of the season, too. He pitched seven-hit ball, yielded four runs in the first four innings. Altogether the Reds have given 53 hits in 60 innings.

Other clubs might win with this sort of pitching, but the Reds cannot. Cincinnati has scored only 16 runs on 46 hits and the once-faultless defense now resembles a sieve. The Reds made eight errors in one game recently.

To show what the Reds are up against, St. Louis pitchers have allowed 48 hits in seven games and the Cardinal themselves have made 62 hits for 32 runs. And against the weaker opposition of the Eastern division, Brooklyn pitchers have permitted 56 hits in eight games while their teammates have amassed 51 runs on 81 safeties.

Prior to yesterday, the Cards had come up with two four-hit games. Mort Cooper looked masterful in holding the Reds to three singles in his latest outing and the offensive his teammates waged on Walters was nothing short of vicious.

Dodgers Drub Braves

The Dodgers administered an even more heartless threshing to the Boston Braves in a 13-2 decision. Rookie Ed Head pitched eight-hit ball for his second success.

In the only other National league game Rip Sewell held the Chicago Cubs to six hits while the Pittsburgh Pirates patterned a 5-2 triumph around home runs by Bob Elliott and Stu Martin.

The New York Yankees crushed the Philadelphia Athletics, 10-4, by way of celebrating Manager Joe McCarthy's 54th birthday. Charley Keller hit a grand slam homer in the first inning as Charley (Red) Ruffing breezed to his second victory.

The Detroit Tigers whipped the Chicago White Sox, 4-2, with Schoolboy Rowe and Johnny Gorsica sharing a six-hit pitching stint. Rowe kept the Sox shut out until the ninth.

CLEVELAND TO OPEN 15-GAME ROAD TRIP

Kennedy Faces Muncrief, Browns Today.

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, April 22—With the satisfaction of being in third place, the Cleveland Indians sent Vernon Kennedy against the St. Louis Browns today for the third game of the series and the last one to be played here until May 10.

Hoping to win at least one match here, the Browns called on Young Bob Muncrief, winner of 13 games last year, to avenge the Tribe's 4 to 2 triumph yesterday. The victory put Cleveland in third place.

Al Milnar limited the Browns to seven scattered hits yesterday in notching his first victory of the season. He permitted a tally in the fifth on doubles by Rick Ferrell and Don Gutteridge, and another in the ninth on a walk, a single and a sacrifice.

In their half of the fifth, the Redskins jumped on Bob Harris for four hits and three runs, enough to win the game, but they added another marker in the seventh.

The Indians open a 15-game road trip tomorrow in St. Louis.

LEADERS UNCHANGED IN A. B. C. TOURNEY

Two Ohio Teams Make Belated Starts.

By The Associated Press

Columbus, O., April 22—The vaulted coliseum on Ohio's state fairgrounds merrily echoed the boom of bowling balls in today's wee hours.

As five spectators looked sleepily on, the two Ohio quintets took their belated turns on a pair of American Bowling Congress drives with 34 other lanes vacant.

They drew the post-midnight vigil because a pin-setting device was broken as a pin-boy dropped it during the first game of their scheduled tour last night. So the teams—the St. Clair 98th Recreations of Cleveland and the Spears Funeral Home of Columbus—were pulled off to roll after the night's second shift.

Unmolested save possibly by silence, the Clevelanders finished with a 2786 while the funeral five compiled 2721.

Two scoreboard men blinked owlishly. A brace of pinboys yawned, but the fowl judge was on the qui vive. He called three fouls.

Others on hand besides the little knot of spectators were four alley maintenance men, one taxi-cab starter and two charwomen.

Prexy Alumni Gridders Ho Next Year's Team to 0-0 T

1941 Team Protects Unscored-On Record; Ga Scores Touchdown in "Overtime."

Memories of the 1941 football season were displayed for probably the last time yesterday at Harding Stadium as senior members of the 1941 Harding squad held next year's team to a scoreless tie in a spring practice game.

The 1941 Williams-coached combine, as most fans will recall, completed the season undefeated and unscored-on. Harding was the state's only Class A school to claim the latter feat.

The game was staged under regular football rules with the exception of the time element. The opening two periods were 10-minute quarters, while the final two periods were regulation 12-minute quarters.

The alumni team consistently outplayed next year's team. Chief deciding factor in considering strength of either club was the alumni line. During the regular season last year it was considered by many fans as one of the best in the state and was directly responsible for the unprece success of the team.

Neither team, despite adva one way or another, was forge beyond the opponent yard stripe. After the regu length game, the alumni played an extra quarter Harding second-stringers, during this "over-time" that they succeeded in across the lone score. Day carried the ball into Hardi nitory and from there Lee B tossed a short pass to Hard ver who scampered acro touched.

LOUISVILLE STOPS BIRDS 4-0 IN A.A.

Milwaukee Posts Sixth Straight Win.

By The Associated Press

The Kansas City Blues, who have been building up an American association winning streak with a minimum of runs, reversed the procedure yesterday for their fifth straight—a mark, incidentally, that is excelled only by the still undefeated Milwaukee Brewers.

Yesterday the Blues wound up with a 10 to 1 victory over St. Paul, a far departure from their first six games — four of which were decided by one run and five of which produced an average of less than three runs a game for the Blues.

Today is an open date around the circuit, but for St. Paul it is more like a reprieve. The Saints have lost all six of their games.

Milwaukee ran its undefeated string to six yesterday with a 10 to 9 triumph over Minneapolis. The surprising Brewers had to go an extra inning to win.

Nelson Potter's six hit, 4-0 shutout victory over Columbus enabled Louisville to keep step with Kansas City, both of which now have won five games and lost two.

Seven Indianapolis errors, three of them in the tenth, helped Toledo defeat the Indians, 9 to 4.

WPB ORDER WON'T TROUBLE HUBER CO.

New Ruling on Rubber-Tired Farm Machinery Issued.

E. J. Schroeter, president and general manager of the Huber Manufacturing Co. said the issuance of a new WPB order yesterday discontinuing manufacture of rubber-tired farm machinery, except harvester-thresher combines, on April 30 will not affect the Huber company appreciably.

He said all farm machinery manufactured after April 30 will, of course, be equipped without rubber tires but that the Huber company is already under a heavy production schedule for government orders.

The WPB order also decreed manufacture of all combines must cease July 31, The Associated Press reported. Mr. Schroeter said 1942 combine production schedules would probably call for completion of the output by this deadline.

Included under the April 30 deadline are all farm tractors requiring rubber tires.

WPB officials said additional time was permitted makers of combines because a new small-size machine had been developed requiring rubber tires for complete efficiency. Manufacturers now are endeavoring to perfect a satisfactory substitute for rubber in the special tires used.

RUSS MORGAN ORCHESTRA AT PALACE THURSDAY

Novelty Numbers Booked Along with Musical Programs.

Russ Morgan, who will score his orchestra and "Music in the Morgan Manner" to the Palace stage Thursday, began his musical career at the age of 14 on a piano. At 18 he joined Paul Specht, then a leading band leader in New York City.

At 20 Morgan was arranger for John Philip Sousa and Victor Herbert.

His next assignment was in Detroit, where he arranged and organized the Goldkette orchestra of "all stars."

Morgan was back in New York when, upon overtures from NBC he organized his own band and started an engagement at the Biltmore hotel. Morgan plays the piano, trombone, vibraphone, celeste, marimba and organ and sings baritone.

Phyllis Lynne, blond vocalist with Morgan's orchestra, is a Californian. Among her favorite novelty songs are "The Reluctant Dragon," "Johnnie's In the Pantry" and "Don't Let Julia Fool Ya."

Another featured attraction is Jana, pastel artist, who draws colorful "flash impressions".

Johnson Says More U. S. Troops To Reach India

NEW DELHI, INDIA, April 22 ... of India is ... of ... in the United States, "it is ... are ... in India, and ... of the United ... have ... here, told ... to troops ... now in India presumably about the air force under Maj. Gen. Lewis H. Brereton which already had struck effective blows at the Japanese.)

"The technical skill of the United States will, to the extent to which you will accept it, be applied to the problem here," he added.

Of Sir Stafford Cripps' unsuccessful mission to seek Indian approval of Britain's plans for her future status, Johnson said only that "there is going to be a Johnson version of the story, but the time for that version has not arrived as yet."

STOCKS SLIP AFTER OPENING

Most Leaders Favor Downside Slightly As Trading Session Progresses.

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, April 22—Stocks slipped a bit today after a steady market opening.

Most of the normal trading leaders favored the downside slightly, although there was a good deal of see-saw action which swung them occasionally from plus to minus and back.

Showing losses a good part of the time were U. S. Steel, General Motors, Goodrich, Sears Roebuck, Caterpillar and Westinghouse. Du Pont and Union Carbide gave ground more easily than most.

Rails did a little better than stocks, and the general tone was steady to higher. U. S. governments held modest gains.

Wall Street, following the industrial picture created by war, was impressed with the weekly analysis of the magazine "Iron Age," which said that a few plants were already beginning to fear that they soon would receive stretch-production or slow-down orders on government work because of the shortage of transportation facilities, both on sea and land.

"... within a reasonably short time," the trade paper said, "the emphasis may shift from intensifying manufacture of war implements to speeding their transport to battle areas."

SOME BUYING HELPS WHEAT AND CORN

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, April 22 — Some buying for mills and commission houses gave wheat and corn futures a steady to firm tone most of the session today. The trend at the start was higher, but the volume dried up as the session wore on and trade turned dull and featureless.

Wheat at times gained as much as ¾ cents a bushel, while corn was steady at around the previous closing levels. Soybeans, however, were under pressure, despite advances in grains, cotton and live hogs.

Most traders seemed content to await developments concerning proposed price fixing measures at Washington before taking a definite position in the market.

Unstable Colon

The unstable colon has been suggested by Dr. John Kantor as a better name than the irritable colon or colitis for the form of functional disease which is a combination of a general feeling of abdominal discomfort with localized symptoms in the large intestine.

At least 35 per cent of the patients who come to a large clinic for digestive diseases, it has been reported by Dr. Sara Jordan, have nervous disturbances for which treatment of the colon is the outstanding requirement.

Everybody, including the patient, realizes that a great deal of the trouble caused by this condition is due to a nervous make-up, but it is also true that in most cases there is some localized spot or physical condition which is in the digestive tract, and unless this is corrected all the psychology in the world is wasted and ineffective.

The patient with an unstable colon has usually abused himself with the habitual use of drugs, particularly cathartics, faddy diets, overwork, lack of recognition of the necessity for a period of rest and a continual jumping from one form of treatment to another, depending upon the advice given him by different neighbors. None of these patients seem to realize that their colons are individuals themselves, and that what was good for an old lady who died in Yarmouth, Massachusetts, in 1870 is not necessarily good for them.

The symptoms of this form of digestive disorder are predominantly abdominal distress and distension. This makes everybody feel at some time or another that they should have a cathartic and most of them are habitual cathartic users. The fact that this makes the colon more unstable and more irritable is something that they do not take the trouble to analyze.

Distension is associated with gas distress and usually occurs regularly after meals. Almost always this is due to some localized form of irritation. Nausea and vomiting occur in a very small percentage of cases; a few have diarrhoea. The constipation complained of by these patients, when analyzed, usually means that they have been taking laxatives over a period of years until they are dependent on them.

The puzzling thing to the physician about these patients is that he can usually find nothing to account for their symptoms. They are seldom underweight, their blood is unchanged, they have no recognized or standard disease, the X-ray shows no change in the rate of stomach or intestinal movement, except occasionally when they are in acute distress.

The treatment is principally directed toward relieving tension, getting them out of the cathartic and putting them on a diet which suits their particular and individual colon.

People write and ask me for a diet for colitis. There is no diet for colitis that suits everybody and the proper diet has to be found by a patient and his physician. Of course, the diet should be easily digestible and non-irritating, well-cooked, and chewed and eaten under calm circumstances which leave the mind free.

Pitfalls of Love

By ADELE GARRISON

Under the Floor of Diswell's Inner Room, Madge Finds in a Cavity a Small Carved Ivory Cube

I DID NOT wonder that Gus looked at me as if he thought I suddenly had gone out of my mind. But he confined his thoughts to his eyes; his speech was gratifying docile.

"Okay, Miss Graham," he said. "Look all you want."

"No, no, Gus," I protested, for I knew how lively was the sense of dignity and prestige possessed by police officials. "As soon as the police captain comes in, knock on this door and I will come out and talk to him."

"Okay," he said again.

For a long second I stood in the center of the room, pulling myself together to answer the intuition—What Dicky and Lillian call one of Madge's hunches—which had drawn me inexorably within these four walls.

Sometimes, but not often, from somewhere in the depths of my subconsciousness wells up a mandate to do some certain thing. When I have neglected to obey such a command I always have regretted my omission.

Recalls What Charles Said

Now I was in the room from which the man Charles had retrieved the parcel which had been the object of a search by the brutal gangsters who had impersonated Charles and Professor Diswell. Charles' gloating "tag line" to the trussed gangsters—"Yes, it was under your nose all the time,"—still rang in my ears. I could not but feel that in some way that mysterious parcel was connected with the sheet of cuneiform characters which I had brought for possible translation by Professor Diswell.

I let my eyes roam over the room, searching every nook and corner. It was comfortably furnished, but I was not looking at the furnishings, rather at the walls and floor.

Seeks the Hiding Place

Somewhere in that room there had been an ingenious hiding place from which Charles had retrieved the parcel, which later he put into his baggage or that of the old professor. Could I find that hiding place?

Almost mechanically I stopped, picked up the rug by an edge, rolled it back and scrutinized the floor beneath. Then I caught my breath. The hardwood floor was laid out in squares, and one of these seemed freer from dust than the others. The room reflected a man's careless housekeeping, although it was not really dirty.

The square had no opening that I could see, but I stooped and pressed my fingers all over its surface, and just as I was about to give up it tipped up. I found myself gazing down into a cedar-lined cavity larger than the lid, big enough to hold several parcels not too large to be put in and taken out of the opening.

I was thankful indeed that I had brought my handbag into the room. With fingers that I vainly tried to keep steady I took from it my tiny pencil flashlight and seeing to it that no smallest corner escaped my light.

At last I saw it—the object which had been calling me—something which I had not seen for many years, but which brought back to me so vividly a precious past long dead that I felt my throat constricting with sobs to which I dared not give vent.

It was a curiously carved cube of ivory which gleamed whitely in the darkness of the hidden cavity; a small thing originally designed as a watch charm, but which I knew also could be attached to a bracelet. But even as, shaken with memories, I clutched at it to rescue it from its eerie grave, I heard a knock on the door of the room, and Gus called me insistently.

"The captain of the troopers is here, Missis Graham," he said.

The Stars Say—

For Thursday, April 23

The forecast is for a most stirring and eventful day, with all things moving in a surprising and rapid manner, under unusual pressure and toward quite unpredictable goals. This probably as a culmination of sound ideas, plans and objectives faithfully and logically pursued but with a sudden and unlooked-for denouement, the combination promising stability and enduring success and good fortune as well as surprising experiences of far-reaching importance. Elders and strangers may figure with real possessions.

Those whose birthday it is may be on the threshold of a year of the sudden, strange, surprising and thrilling, in which unlooked for and unpredictable forces may come to the fore. Not only may benefits arise from the staid, expected and worked-for, but there may be unexpected benefits from strange novel sources. Probably old friends and relatives may figure, or old static assests or business investments may be stabilized.

A child born on this day should possess many plendid traits of sound and table quality, fortified by unusual ingenuity, vision and creative skills assuring a successful, dramatic and romantic career.
